Playoff Rules

The playoff rules will be the same as the rules were all season. The home team is to buy a round of drinks for each team, and you are playing for a game drink as normal. This means that all matches should be completely played out in full so that all game drinks etc get purchased for all 15 games. Even if the match is technically over after a team reaches eight wins, you need to finish it out completely. All matches will be played at the establishment of the team with the better record.

Table Runs

Congratulations to Scott Vos, Kevin Frey, Mike Prailes, Phil Bourdo, and Dan Jinar on their table runs this week.

All Star Tournament & Prize Money

The all star tournament will be held on March 23rd at the establishment that wins the playoff tournament. I will contact each team captain as to where that will be. Prize money will also be distributed that night. All players should attend that night to claim your prize money and/or awards. Don't forget to bring a bottle of booze from your bar to raffle off that night. Numerous teams have forgotten this in the past!!

All Star Shooters

The top 2 shooters on each team are eligible to shoot in the all star tournament. You must have completed 75% of the games (regular), to qualify. If a shooter cannot shoot that night, someone from your team can shoot in your place, but they must have qualified with 75% as well to do so. Anyone not showing up will be considered a forfeit.

Sportsman of the Year

Don't forget to vote for Sportsman of the Year tonight. Each team gets five votes, whether all the same or separate for each player voting. You can write these on the front of your sheets before you take the picture, text it to me, or email it to me at

Team Sportsman of the Year

Don't forget to also vote for Team Sportsman of the Year as well tonight. This will be handled the same way as the individual Sportsman, with each team getting five votes, whether all the same or separate for each player voting. You can write these on the sheets, text it to me, or email it to me at
