Playoff Rules

All of the playoff rules will be the same as all of the rules were all season !! This includes the home team buying a round of drinks for each team, as well as you are playing for a game drink as normal. This means that all matches should be completely played out in full so that all game drinks etc get purchased for all 15 games. Even though the match is technically over after a team reaches eight wins, you still need to finish the match out completely. All playoff matches will be played at the establishment of the team with the better record.

Spelling

Please double check each of your guys names to make sure they are spelled correctly. This way any trophies as well as the final standings can be put out with the correct spellings this year!!!

All Star Tournament & Prize Money

The all star tournament will be held on April 11th at the establishment that wins the playoff tournament. I will contact each team captain as to where that will be. Prize money will also be distributed that night. All players should attend that night to claim your prize money and/or awards. Don't forget to bring a bottle of booze from your bar to raffle off that night. Numerous teams have forgotten this in the past!!

All Star Shooters

The top shooter on each team is eligible to shoot in the all star tournament. The top 5 teams, according to records, get to send 2 shooters to shoot. You must have shot 75% of the games (regular), to qualify. If your top shooter cannot shoot that night, someone from your team can shoot in their place, but they must have qualified with 75% as well to do so. Anyone not showing up will be considered a forfeit and bye.

Sportsman of the Year

Don't forget to vote for Sportsman of the Year tonight. Each team gets five votes, whether all the same or separate for each player voting. You can write these on the front of your sheets before you take the picture, text it to me, or email it to me at RockinMs@msn.com. We are still a few votes short!!!

Team Sportsman of the Year

Don't forget to also vote for Team Sportsman of the Year as well tonight. This will be handled the same way as the individual Sportsman, with each team getting five votes, whether all the same or separate for each player voting. You can write these on the sheets, text it to me, or email it to me at RockinMs@msn.com. Once again, I only have two votes so far!!
